UUFORTUNATE AFFAIR BETWEEN TWO RELATIVES .- Hon. Edward A. Hannegan, late U. S. Senator for Indiana, and Capt. Duncan, his brother-in-law, living in the same house at Covingion, Indiana, on the most friendly terms, had a personal misunderstanding on the 7th inst. It appears that on the day and evening previous, they had both been drinking, and on the morning of the sad occurrence, Capt. Duncan went up stairs to Mr. Hannegan's room, and an altercation ensued between the parties, when Capt. Duncan gave Mr. Hannegan a slap in the face. Hannegan, upon the indignity he felt, and the impulse of the moment, struck Capt. Duncan with a knife in the lower part of the stomache, inflicting a severe, and what is thought, a dangerous wound. Mr. Hannegan, recovering from his possessions, aroused by the supposed indignity, suffers the most excruenting tortures the reflection that he has, perhaps, acruck down as kind a friend as he has on earth. A rumor reached Cincinnati in the early part of the week that Duncan had died of

THE UNDERGROUND RAILROAD .- A trial lately had in the United States District Court for New York city, before Judge Judson, tends to show where at least a part of the money comes from that supports the underground railroad and other entrivances by which the anti-slavery society carry on their machinations sgainst the peace and prosperity of the South. A letter from New York says:

Mr. Wm. Johnson, the treasurer, we believe-at all events one of the leading officers-of the anti-slavery society, was arraigned, tried and found guilty of the oftence of coining and counterfeiting money It appears that this worthy, who was an English abolition emissary, had for some years been in the habit of manufacturing arge quantities of spurious coin-an occupation for which his original calling as silver worker particularly qualified him. He joined a church, and soon took a high rank in the association for spiriting away foreign slaves. Money speedily became plenty in the coffers of the kidnappers, and Mr. Johnson, thinking doubtless that he was doing God and himself service at the same time, waxed bolder and more the same time, waxed bolder and more reckless in his pursuits. But the eye of justice was upon him, and its hand eventually grasped him. He proved a most excellent character, but in vain. Neither his exemplary piety, his philanthropy, nor his philosophy, could save him. The evidence of his guilt was irresistable; he nor his philosophy, could save him. The evidence of his guilt was irresistable; he was convicted, and sent for a term of ears to the State prison. We condule with the the anti-slavery society upon their loss of such a valuable officer such a worthy member of this respectable fraternity.

The extent of discase prevailing throughout the community is truly alarming. Scarcely an individual do we pass in the street but the countenance strongly evinees the disease or intelnal derangement waith is rapidly hastening the period of dissolution. Discases of the Lungs, Liver, Kidneys and Spleen are becoming more and more numerous, and from these many other difficulties arise; as Dyspepsia, Dropsy, Erysipelias Canker, Shortness of breath, Asthma, Dizzinees, Coldness of extremities and Chillenes, Palpitation, Numbness, Debility Costiveness, Piles, Diarrhon' Catarch, Headachs, Frolapsus Uturi, Plour Albas, incent insees of Uture, Inflammations, heat and burning of the body, chills, Fevers, &c., &c.

incon instace of Urine, Inflammations, heat and burning of the body, chills, Fevers, &c., &c.

If an individual is acked why he does not resort to remedies for his complaint, the almost invariable reply is, "If don't know what to do; I have tried the regular Doctors, the Homepathists, the Thompsonians, and all others. I have taken the advertised medicines until I am tired—none of them do meany good—I am completely discouraged; I think I never can be curred." We respectfully swite the attention of this large class of softerers to the INCONTROVERTIBLE FACTS, (not theories,) which we publish monthly.
